Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Sunday 03 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Scattered showers in the south Monday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Scattered wintry showers continuing in the east and through the Central Belt this evening and overnight. These becoming mostly confined to the south by morning. Dry and clear elsewhere with a widespread frost.

Monday:
Scattered wintry showers continuing in the south through the morning but mostly dying out into the afternoon. Dry and sunny elsewhere but cold.

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Scattered showers in the east on Tuesday, Largely dry on Wednesday until a band of rain, sleet and snow reaches the northwest by evening, clearing southeastwards Thursday morning, showers behind.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.